

Nota Biográfica de Orador

Niall Leavy

Chief Psychologist & Head of Strategic Projects. With nearly 30 years public service and HR experience, and a record of achievement across four significant organisations in the UK (Ministry of Defence and Cabinet Office) and Ireland (Public Appointments Service and the Central Bank of Ireland), Niall has been at the forefront of introducing highly advanced and innovative approaches to the recruitment, assessment and development of people. With a grounding in organisational psychology, Niall has led on a range of significant Strategic HR, Organisational Development and the talent management related projects. Recent projects include transformation of Graduate

www.ina.pt

Recruitment and Development in the Irish Civil Service and the introduction of Executive Coaching to the top levels in both the Central Bank and the Senior Public Service in Ireland. In addition he has been instrumental in shaping and executing the transformation of, what were traditional public service organisations, into more performance focused organisations.

Niall is also an established visual artist, known for his vibrant, uplifting, modern art. In recent years his art has been exhibited around the world in cities such as London, New York, Chicago, Milan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Seoul and Stockholm.